

Ambassador Program Expectations

If selected as a Colorado 4-H shooting Sports Teen Ambassador, you will be representing the 4-H program in Colorado. What you say and what you do is very important. Remember, you never get a second chance to make a good first impression. As an Ambassador you will be meeting with donors who are CEO's of companies or organizations and you always need to put your best foot forward. The way you dress, the way you talk and act are very important when you are serving as an Ambassador.

- You are expected to be on time, so plan to be early to any event.
- You will be traveling to different parts of Colorado
- If you have a cell phone, you need to have it with you and have Barbie Latoski's and Jim Hamilton's phone number with you.
- You need to respond promptly to any emails or phone calls from the Advisor and your chaperon for the event.
- It is very important that you send thank you notes immediately after the event. You will be given names and addresses so that you can fulfill this obligation.
- You may get tired at events, but you always need to be cheerful and ready to respond positively to everyone.
- At these shows and events, you will be on your feet for six to nine hours a day at our booth and other activities prior to going out to dinner in the evening. Our experience tells us that you will get tired and irritable after two or three days of strenuous schedule. Make sure you get your rest so that you don't get tired and irritable.
- You will be doing photo ops with donors to present thank you gifts and maybe even have your picture taken with some one like Tom Selleck, General Schwartzkoff or the CEO of NWTF, NRA or one of our major national industry donors.
- Ambassadors serve at the will and pleasure of the Colorado 4-H Shooting Sports Committee and can be removed for misconduct or not following the rules.

"It is the policy of the Colorado 4-H Shooting Sports Program, that no person shall be subjected to discrimination on the grounds of race, color, gender, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, age, marital or parental status or disability."
